KEEP IT OUT OF STORM DRAINS

WCID110 wants to remind residents to keep grass clippings out of streets, gutters, and storm drains when mowing.

While it may seem harmless, grass clippings that enter the storm sewer system can create problems for both neighborhoods and local waterways.

Unlike sanitary sewers, storm drains are designed to carry rainwater directly to nearby streams, creeks, and rivers. Water entering a storm drain is not treated before it reaches these natural waterways.

When grass clippings wash into storm drains, they can:

- Accumulate in drainage structures and reduce water flow
- Contribute to localized street flooding during heavy rain events
- Add excess nutrients to waterways, which can promote algae growth and reduce water quality
- Impact fish and other aquatic life by lowering oxygen levels in the water

The good news is that preventing these issues is simple.

What Residents Can Do
When mowing your lawn:

- Direct mowers and blowers away from the street whenever possible.
- Sweep or blow grass clippings back onto the lawn.
- Mulch clippings into the turf to return nutrients to the soil.
- Bag or compost excess grass clippings.

These small steps help protect local waterways, improve stormwater drainage, and keep WCID110 neighborhoods looking their best.

Why It Matters
Stormwater management is a shared responsibility. By keeping grass clippings and other yard waste out of streets and storm drains, residents can help reduce flooding concerns, protect water quality, and support a cleaner, healthier community.

HANDY TIPS TO

AVOID FROZEN PIPES

ITS ABOUT PREPARATION AND PREVENTION. FROZEN PIPES CAN LEAVE YOU WITHOUT WATER IN THE WORST CONDITIONS. THEY ALSO COST A LOT TO REPAIR. BUT WITH A FEW SIMPLE STEPS, YOU CAN MITIGATE THE POSSIBILITY THAT YOU WILL HAVE BURST PIPES.

BEFORE COLD WEATHER SETS IN

Check your irrigation systyem and make sure it is turned off and drained.

Eliminate sources of cold air near water lines. Identify your home's freezeing points and address them.

Know where and how to shut off your water from the main line in your home. Probably in your garage area.

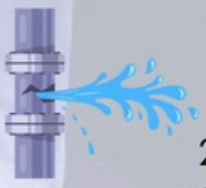
Protect your pipes. Wrap them with insulation or towels. Go the extra step and add a protective layer on top of that like tarp or plastic and securely tie it on.

WHEN TEMPS STAY BELOW FREEZING

If pipes run through cabinets or vanities, open the doors and let warmer room temp flow in.

Keep water moving through the pipes by allowing a small trickle of water to run. Usually from the furthest faucet from your house main.

BUT IF YOUR PIPES BURST



1. Shut off water main in your home.
2. Call plumber
3. Call MOC
